

Assistant or Associate Professor of Integrative Insect Biology
School of Integrative Biology

The School of Integrative Biology and the Department of Entomology at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign invite applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-track faculty position in integrative insect biologist at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor. The position starts as early as August 2012. We seek a broadly trained biologist working on insects who will develop an internationally recognized, externally funded research program that integrates evolutionary approaches into any aspect of insect biology, including but not limited to chemical ecology, developmental genetics, plant-insect interactions, physiology, neuroscience, and behavior. Applicants should be familiar with a diversity of modern techniques, including molecular and genomic methods. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to be part of dynamic and well-established communities of integrative biologists with interests spanning a wide range of taxa in the School of Integrative Biology, as well as in a number of interdisciplinary programs across the campus. Participation in both undergraduate and graduate education is required. A Ph.D. in Biology or related discipline is required by start date, and postdoctoral experience is desirable. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To ensure full consideration, please create your candidate profile through <http://go.illinois.edu/InsectBiology> and upload your application letter, curriculum vitae, summary of research and plans, teaching philosophy and experience, and contact information for three professional references by March 15, 2012. Referees will be contacted electronically upon the submission of the application. Applicants may be interviewed before the closing date; however, no hiring decision will be made until after that date.
